

Look at us now!

- Neil and Julie Ross have been running Ross Engineering in Alice Springs for about 20 years.
- The business has employed more than 30 apprentices in that time.
- Their apprentices have improved the stability of the Ross Engineering workforce.
- They become productive very quickly, which is great for business.
- The apprentices bring new ideas and skills to the workplace.

'There is no doubt that we will continue to use motivated young apprentices in the future.'
